NORRAG
Annual Report 2020
About NORRAG

NORRAG is a global network of 5,000 members for international policies and cooperation in education and training. NORRAG is an offshoot of the Research, Review, and Advisory Group (RRAG) established in 1976 and at the time funded by the International Development Research Centre (IDRC) and Swedish International Development Authority (Sida). It was charged with critically reviewing and disseminating education research related to the developing world. The current name was adopted in 1986. Since the move to Switzerland in 1992, NORRAG has been significantly supported by the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC) and the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies, and more recently, the Open Societies Foundation (OSF).

NORRAG’s strength lies in addressing under-researched questions of quality and equity in key issues in education and development, and in amplifying under-represented expertise particularly from the South. NORRAG’s core mandate is to produce, disseminate and broker critical knowledge and to build capacity for and with the wide range of stakeholders who constitute our network. Our stakeholders from academia, governments, NGOs, international organizations, foundations and the private sector inform and shape education policies and practice at national and international levels. Through our work, NORRAG contributes to creating the conditions for more participatory, evidence-informed decisions that improve equal access to and quality of education and training.

NORRAG is an associate programme of the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies, Geneva.

FOREWORD

We are delighted to share our 2020 annual report with you.

In 2020, NORRAG’s main achievements were the successful start of the Knowledge and Innovation Exchange (KIX) Europe | Asia | Pacific (EAP) Hub and the release of ground-breaking resources on Innovative Finance for Education (IFE) as part of the COFER Innovative Financing in Education and Development project.

2020 also saw many changes induced by the COVID-19 pandemic, especially in education systems worldwide; changes that are exacerbating the divide between those who have access to equitable, quality education and those who do not. UNESCO reported school closures in 188 countries, displacing over 1.5 billion learners and over 63 million teachers. While more privileged schools were able to transition to online learning, the OECD calculated that 61% of teachers were not offered help to adapt to online teaching.

Just as education systems have had to adapt, NORRAG has had to change, with staff mostly working from home and events taking place online. Despite these unprecedented changes in how we work, the principles and orientation of NORRAG remain the same. In addition, we have been reflecting on how we conduct our work as a global organization. We have pledged to reduce our carbon footprint while increasing our global representation (through staff and advisors), as well as our reach and inclusion through virtual technologies for meetings and events.

In 2020, Moira Faul started as NORRAG’s new Executive Director. Moira’s arrival has brought new opportunities in terms of research, partnerships and leadership. We thank the NORRAG team in Switzerland and worldwide, as well as our global community, for their continuous commitment and engagement – and especially for their flexibility and adaptability during this pandemic. While COVID-19 should not be the centre of our attention, it has certainly provided an opportunity to reflect on ourselves, on education systems, and NORRAG’s place in the international education space. We also wish to thank all our partners and funders who have continuously supported us, and we encourage our members and all our stakeholders to share their feedback on our work.

INTRODUCTION AND HIGHLIGHTS
INTRODUCTION

NORRAG’s strength lies in addressing under-researched questions of equity and quality in key issues in education and development, and in amplifying under-represented expertise, particularly from the global South. NORRAG’s core mandate is to produce, disseminate, and broker critical knowledge and to build capacity for and with the wide range of stakeholders who constitute our network.

Our stakeholders from academia, governments, NGOs, international organizations, foundations, and the private sector inform and shape education policies and practices at national and international levels. NORRAG contributes to creating the conditions for more participatory, evidence-informed decisions that improve equal access to and quality of education and training.

As of January 2021, the network has 4,942 registered members in 172 countries, 46% of whom are from the Global South. The network shares a vision of education development:

- Conceives education as a lifelong process, and therefore supports education and vocational skill development in and out of school across the lifespan and in different educational sites.

- Gives equal weight to knowledge and expertise from the Global North/West and the Global South/East and promotes the “voices of the South” and the “voices of the East”.

- Bridges policy and research by providing data-based policy advice and by carrying out policy-relevant analytical work and research.

Our statement of purpose is to inform, influence, and challenge international education policies and cooperation at the international, regional, and national levels, with a particular focus on promoting the voices of the South/East. This mission translates into the following three objectives for our scope of work, which reflect NORRAG’s global niche as it has developed over recent years:

- To provide, build and disseminate timely, concise and evidence-based critical analysis and knowledge.

- To bridge and broker knowledge at the interface between research, policy and practice while leveraging the NORRAG network.

- To develop effective professional development programmes, foster institutional capacity building, and implement collaborative research with and amongst our partners.

Meeting these objectives will eventually contribute to the enhanced and contextualised implementation of our overall goal: the Education 2030 Agenda.
KEY RESULTS AND HIGHLIGHTS

NORRAG has developed a way of working that emphasises partnerships and centres expertise from the South to co-produce effective knowledge products, capacity building interventions and policy dialogue events. Highlights in 2020 include the culmination of our Innovative Financing for Education (IFE) project, supported by swissuniversities, Open Societies Foundation (OSF), and the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC), which brought together six partner institutions in Argentina, China, India, South Africa, and Switzerland to produce new knowledge on recent critical, but little understood, interventions in the education financing landscape nationally and globally. Another major highlight took place on 27 May 2020, when NORRAG hosted the launch of the IDRC-GPE Knowledge Innovation Exchange (KIX) Europe, Asia, and Pacific (EAP) Hub. We seek to bring local expertise and innovations to the surface and support effective regional knowledge generation and mobilisation.

The KIX EAP Hub also offers opportunities for peer learning and exchange through professional development and inter-country visits. In addition to these strategic priorities, we have maintained our flexibility to respond to crises and opportunities. Rather than cancelling most scheduled events after the start of the COVID-19 global pandemic, we moved many of our events online. We rapidly developed our capacity as convenors in virtual spaces, including using interpretation into multiple languages to ensure improved accessibility. We pledged to reduce our carbon footprint while further expanding our global presence through our network and the further use of virtual meeting technologies. We continue to mobilise and inform NORRAG members in 2020, sharing news produced by members and partners in a variety of our knowledge products and regular newsletters; sharing news that would be of interest; and surveying members’ experiences, for example, on COVID-19 in their countries.

ACTIVITIES
This Annual Report presents the key activities, outputs, and results delivered by NORRAG between 1 January and 31 December 2020. It also contains information on NORRAG’s proposed strategic orientations in its main thematic areas as well as facts about our governance and collaborations. It lists the detailed activities according to the three main output categories and four key thematic clusters.

The Appendix presents the statistics and data used as indicators for our outreach and communications outcomes and impact until January 2021. These indicators include the evolution and composition of our membership as well as the use of our website and knowledge products. The indicators reflect our growing outreach and increasing role in knowledge exchange among our various stakeholders, partners and members – including researchers, practitioners and policymakers – with an increasing use of, and contribution to, our outputs from the Global South/East.
KNOWLEDGE PRODUCTION AND DISSEMINATION

Since 2018, the Editorial Board, chaired by Alexandra Draxler, has supported NORRAG in developing strategies to produce, disseminate, and broker critical knowledge along our core themes.

The Editorial Board suggests topics and contributors for NORRAG knowledge products, such as the NORRAG Special Issue (NSI), the NORRAG Series on International Education Development, and the NORRAG Blog. In addition, the Editorial Board provides feedback on publications when required and helps establish a pool of reviewers.

NORRAG Special Issue

NSI is an open-source periodical produced by NORRAG with support from the Open Society Foundations (OSF) and the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). It seeks to give prominence to authors from different countries and with diverse perspectives. Each issue, edited by one or more guests, is dedicated to a special topic of global education policy and international cooperation in education. The NSI includes a number of concise articles from diverse perspectives and actors with the aim of bridging the gap between theory and practice as well as advocacy and policy in international education and development.

Key achievements in 2020 include the launch of NORRAG Special Issue 04 and NORRAG Special Issue 05. NORRAG Special Issue 03, originally released in Spanish in 2019, was published in Arabic, English, French, Russian, and Simplified Chinese script.

- November 2020: Launch of NSI 05: Domestic Financing: Tax and Education, with guest editor David Archer, Head of Public Services, ActionAid, UK. Translations and regional contextualisation in Arabic, Simplified Chinese script, Spanish, French and Russian are currently underway.
Innovative Finance for Education Outputs

In 2020, NORRAG published a series of outputs from the ‘Innovative Financing in Education and Development: Case Studies and Multimedia Material for E-Learning’ (IFE) project. The two-year project started in 2018 and will come to an end in 2021. It included the following partners: NORRAG, the University of Fribourg and Zurich University of Teacher Education (Switzerland), Universidad Nacional de General Sarmiento in Buenos Aires (Argentina), Beijing Normal University (China), Tata Institute of Social Sciences in Mumbai (India), and the University of Cape Town (South Africa). This project was partially funded by swissuniversities Development and Cooperation Network (SUDAC) under the development of Consortia for Education and Research (COFER) and supported by OSF, SDC and the partner organisations.

The IFE project contributes to NORRAG’s efforts by building empirical evidence on the use of innovative financing to improve provision, quality, and equity in education. It presents research with a focus on the Global South in the form of working papers, animated videos, and case studies.

- July 2020: Working paper: Innovative financing for education: A systematic literature review, by Marina Avelar, Arushi Terway and Marina Dreux Frotté. NORRAG’s 11th Working Paper is the result of a systematic review of over 130 publications on the topic. It explores how innovative finance has been conceptualised in the field of education and the types of mechanisms that have been explored so far. The paper also provides an analysis of the benefits and challenges of innovative financing in education, as described in the literature.

- July 2020: In-depth case study: India Education Outcomes Fund, by Archana Mehendale and Ajay Singh. NORRAG’s 12th Working Paper is a case study showcasing the design and process of establishing the India Education Outcomes Fund, a catalytic platform for providing sustainable and innovative funding at scale. The working paper was developed by the Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS), Mumbai.

- December 2020: Working paper: Zaya Learning Lab, by Marina Avelar and Arushi Terway. NORRAG’s 13th Working Paper examines the evolution of Zaya Learning Labs from its initial work as a non-profit organisation to its current format as a for-profit social business. The case study focuses on how its funding has changed over time by leveraging the impact investing ecosystem.

- Educate Girls Development Impact Bond, by Marina Dreux Frotté
- Global Partnership for Education – GPE Multiplier Fund, by Albiana Jasiqi
- International Financing Facility for Education (IFFEd), by Albiana Jasiqi
- Girls Rising and Global Education Fund, by Albiana Jasiqi
- Education Performance for Results Program in Tanzania, by Wajeeha Bajwa

A series of short case studies were also published to illustrate how Innovative Financin in Education mechanisms work in practice in diverse contexts in the Global South. These short cases compile existing information to tell the story behind the design and implementation of various mechanisms, shedding light on the financing challenges they address:

- Education, Youth, and Employment Bond – Inter-American Development Bank by Michèle Manpreet Ryatt
- Lumni Income Share Agreement by Michèle Manpreet Ryatt
- Debt-for-education swaps: Cases between Spain and Latin American countries by Michèle Manpreet Ryatt
- IDP Rising Schools Program by Albiana Jasiqi
- Crowdsourcing student loans: Student financing in Kenya with Kiva and Strathmore University by Michèle Manpreet Ryatt
Finally, ten animation videos were created to explain the rationale behind the need for innovative financing in the education sector and explain, in visually engaging ways, examples of diverse innovative financing mechanisms, from bonds and debt swaps to insurance and remittances. The purpose of these videos is for novice audiences to quickly grasp the fundamental structure of various innovative financing mechanisms that could potentially be used to either bring more funding into education or utilise existing funding in a more efficient and effective manner.
Working Group Report on Migration

After organizing the Education and Migration Conference in 2018, representatives from NORRAG, Réseau Suisse Education et Coopération Internationale (RECI), NGOs, and education boards formed a working group to identify “good practice” elements for the field of education and migration.

- February 2020: Education and Migration: Recommendations for Practitioners Report, by Silvan Oberholzer (NORRAG) and Ruth Dällenbach (RECI).

This report examines the findings from six case studies in the field of education for children and young people who are in a phase of transition or integration after having emigrated or fled from their home country. It provides recommendations for policymakers and practitioners.

CAPACITY DEVELOPMENT AND PARTNERSHIP OUTPUT

Courses at the Graduate Institute

In 2020, Gita Steiner-Khamsi taught a 6-ECTS (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System) course at the Graduate Institute, Geneva, titled “Education and Development: Tools and Techniques for International Cooperation.” The course is highly regarded by students from the Master in Development Studies programme and Master in International Affairs programme.

Ji Liu, Lara Patil, and Arushi Terway were invited to the class as guest speakers during the Spring semester. On 9 April, Ji Liu presented a paper he wrote with Gita Steiner-Khamsi titled Human Capital Index and the hidden penalty for non-participation in ILSAs. On 30 April, Lara Patil gave a presentation on The Evolution of Silicon Valley Philanthropy: ‘Disruption’ and the Implications for Educational Development in Pandemic Times. On 23 April, Arushi Terway presented on Development Impact Bonds (DIBs) and other Innovative Financing (IF) Mechanisms in Education, along with John Soleanicov, Programme Director at the UBS Optimus Foundation.

In addition to these events and talks, the IFE team engaged in capacity-building activities at the Graduate Institute. On 23 April, Arushi Terway presented on Development Impact Bonds (DIBs) and other Innovative Financing (IF) Mechanisms in Education, along with John Soleanicov, Programme Director at the UBS Optimus Foundation during Gita Steiner-Khamsi’s class at the Graduate Institute on Education and Development: Tools and Techniques for International Cooperation.

Innovative Financing in Education and Development: Case Studies and Multimedia Material for eLearning

In 2020, the IFE team disseminated the lessons learned about innovative financing in education through various forums. This section details IFE activities that provide capacity building in formal settings, such as classrooms. Please refer to the activities described in the section, “Policy Dialogue: Private sector engagement in education and innovative financing,” to view the IFE capacity-building activities that took place in informal settings like conferences and workshops.

In addition to these events and talks, the IFE team engaged in capacity-building activities at the Graduate Institute. On 23 April, Arushi Terway presented on Development Impact Bonds (DIBs) and other Innovative Financing (IF) Mechanisms in Education, along with John Soleanicov, Programme Director at the UBS Optimus Foundation during Gita Steiner-Khamsi’s class at the Graduate Institute on Education and Development: Tools and Techniques for International Cooperation.

On 4 December, 2020, Marina Dreux Frotté of NORRAG and Tomas Esper, Research Consultant at NORRAG, gave a guest lecture at a Master’s level class at Teachers College, Columbia University on Innovative Financing. Marina Dreux Frotté explained the fundamental concepts of innovative financing and the use of innovative financing to ensure equitable quality education. Tomas Esper presented the Case Study on Proyectá tu Futuro, a social impact bond being implemented in Buenos Aires, Argentina.
Special dispatch regarding CIES 2020

NORRAG and its partners were scheduled to attend the Comparative and International Education Society (CIES) Annual Conference, Education Beyond the Human: Toward Sympoiesis, on 22–26 March 2020 in Miami, Florida. However, due to the COVID-19 pandemic and in consideration of the safety and health of the CIES community, the CIES Board cancelled the on-site conference and transferred some of its content online. NORRAG fully supported the decision of the CIES Board, which unfortunately led to the cancellation of NORRAG’s activities at the conference, where we had planned to organise or participate in 11 panel discussions, four paper sessions and the presentation of two NORRAG Special Issues. In this report, we list, in the appropriate sections, the NORRAG panels that would have been organised at CIES 2020. In addition to the regular programme of panel sessions, the regular NORRAG Policy Research Reception would have been organised in partnership with the Al Qasimi Foundation.

Strategic orientations and next steps

- Develop additional in-depth case studies and teaching notes on existing IFE experiences in the Global South.
- Continue to offer master’s-level academic courses on education and development for students in interdisciplinary programmes at the Graduate Institute.
- Develop and fundraise for Executive Education courses (CAS) for professionals working in the education and finance sector, along with UNESCO-IIEP and the Graduate Institute.
- Engage in additional research partnerships to examine the impact of innovative financing structures on improving funding for inclusive and equitable quality education.
- Deliver the course ‘Using data and information for crisis-sensitive education planning’ with UNESCO-IIEP.
- Create and deliver a second Learning Cycle for the IDRC-GPE KIX EAP region on Feasibility Studies for Scaling Innovation (Russian language), which will enable national experts to publish a data-based study on an existing innovation or a pilot project in their country.
POLICY DIALOGUE

International Policy Agendas and Global Governance

Over the last three decades, globalisation has presented a new set of challenges and opportunities for policymakers and implementers in the field of education. Global actors are reshaping the priorities, approaches, and agendas of the international community, with repercussions for national and local governments. Similarly, the governance arrangements used to further international policy agendas have undergone noticeable changes. In this context, the traditional role of the state is evolving, with non-state, regional, and international actors playing an increasingly large role in policy and governance. The following pages highlight some of the work in this area, particularly NORRAG’s work on the themes of SDG 4 – Education 2030 Agenda, education in fragile and conflict-affected states, and the politics of data and indicators.

SDG 4 – Education 2030 Agenda

What has transpired globally, regionally, and nationally since the Sustainable Development Agenda, including SDG 4, was confirmed by the UN General Assembly in 2015. Following the goal and target agreements for 2030, the question immediately became: ‘What next?’ How would these new targets be achieved? How would they be measured, and which indicators will be used? How will they be financed?

Since SDGs are aspirational global goals, a key issue becomes if and how they would be translated into national and international policies around the world over the coming years. NORRAG’s work in this area aims to stimulate critical and multi-perspective and multi-stakeholder discussions about SDG4 and the Education 2030 agenda and its impact on policy and practice.

At the end of 2019, NORRAG secured a 45-month grant from the Global Partnership for Education (GPE) and the International Development Research Centre (IDRC) to host the Knowledge Innovation Exchange (KIX) Hub for the Europe, Asia, and Pacific (EAP) region, ranging from Albania in the west to Papua New Guinea in the east, from the Republic of the Maldives in the south, to Mongolia in the north.

The goal of this project is to strengthen education systems by ensuring that evidence-based solutions get in the hands of national policymakers and directly feed into policy dialogue and planning processes, while building the capacity to produce, integrate, and scale knowledge and innovation in our 21 GPE partner countries.

Activities in the hub in 2020 include a launch event that was attended by more than 100 participants from the 21 countries in the KIX EAP region on 27 May 2020; an empirical study on thematic priorities, challenges, and innovations in the 21 countries of the EAP region; and a series of five webinars attended by over 960 total participants on the topics below. The first webinar included Russian interpretation, and the subsequent webinars also included Arabic interpretation.

• ‘Implementing Monitoring, Evaluation & Learning (MEL) during COVID-19: Thoughts, Ideas & Reflections’ in collaboration with our partner in the project FHI 360 on 22 July 2020
• ‘Potentials for Innovative Financing Solutions for Inclusive and Quality Education’, organized by the KIX EAP Hub in partnership with NORRAG’s Innovative Finance for Education project on 27 August 2020.

Education in Fragility

According to the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), a staggering 70.8 million people are forcibly displaced worldwide, including 25.9 million refugees (2019 figures). Over half of refugees are below 18 years of age. Education Cannot Wait estimates that 75 million children are in dire need of educational support in crisis-affected contexts, including hundreds of thousands of children whose education has been disrupted by natural disasters. NORRAG’s work in the area of education in fragility emphasises the production of knowledge and research and seeks to bring together stakeholders to encourage interactions between research and policy in the field of education in fragility.

In the first half of 2020, a key achievement in the area of education in fragile contexts was the signature of the Pledge signed at the Global Refugee Forum (which took place in December 2019) to make Geneva a global hub for education in emergencies. The Pledge was signed by the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies – of which NORRAG is an associate programme – and also by Education Cannot Wait (ECW), Global Education Cluster (GEC), Inter-agency Network for Education in Emergencies (INEE), International Organization for Migration (IOM), United Nations Children’s Fund (UNICEF), United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) and the University of Geneva. NORRAG now represents the Graduate Institute on the Geneva Global Hub for Education in Emergencies Working Group and Steering Committee.

As part of Virtual CIES (vCIES), NORRAG collaborated on a series of webinars on data and education in emergencies organised by our strategic partner, the Inter-Agency for Education in Emergencies (INEE). Moira V. Faul, as new Executive Director, spoke during the first online webinar on Strengthening the Global EiE Data Architecture and chaired the second Using Data to Plan for Crises. This work is a continuation of NORRAG-INEE work on EiE data production, use, and governance, building on the 2019 Education in Emergencies Data Summit, which NORRAG was central to organising. This two-day Summit addressed EiE data issues, challenges, and opportunities across the humanitarian and development sector.

NORRAG continues to serve as co-chair of the Expert Group of the INEE Data and Evidence Collaborative, convening EiE data experts from a range of organisations that have EiE mandates. We were also instrumental in establishing, and participate in, the INEE Reference Group on education in emergencies (EiE) data. The Reference Group seeks to tackle some of the sectoral challenges in EiE data collection, storage, sharing, and use. This group fulfills part of the 2019 EiE Data Summit Action Agenda, by enabling data experts from a range of organisations to collaborate on systemic EiE data issues that exist within and between their organisations.

In July 2020, NORRAG and the UNESCO Futures of Education organised an online consultation on the “Futures of Education in Emergencies and Protracted Crises”. This foresight exercise will feed into UNESCO’s Futures of Education initiative, which aims to reimagine how knowledge and learning can shape the future of humanity and the planet. This event is part of the Futures of Education expert track, the second of three interconnected tracks to engage in public dialogue and debate with multiple stakeholders at global, regional, and national levels to enrich the process of developing the report. The online consultation was attended by 35 experts from across policy, practice, and academia and moderated by our partners from Education Cannot Wait, the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), INEE, and Save the Children.

As a key recommendation of the 2019 Data Summit Action Agenda, the INEE Data and Evidence Collaborative – co-chaired by FHI 360 and NORRAG – consulted a range of actors on how best to constitute this expert group before inviting ECW and the UIS to co-chair the INEE-convened group for the first year.
Politics of Data and Indicators

Global governance is increasingly becoming evidence-based, which in turn encourages the generation of data and statistics to guide policy and to legitimate decisions. Data has thus become a key agent of the global education community and serves as an important source of legitimation and justification for decision-making and for the investment of resources in education and training areas. NORRAG’s work in this area aims to unpack the role of data and indicators in global governance frameworks for education and to question the implications of standardisations shaped by these governance frameworks, with a specific emphasis on education-relevant Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) and frameworks. For example, NORRAG plays a key role in the development of global policy and practice regarding data and evidence in emergencies in education by continuing to co-convene with INEE, the Collaborative Working Group.

As a follow-up to the launch of NORRAG Special Issue 03 in October 2019, and to coincide with the launch of the English translation of NSI 03, NORRAG organised a panel discussion on 16 March 2020 with internationally renowned experts in education and global governance to discuss the impact of global monitoring on national reform priorities in education:

- Global monitoring of national educational development: Coercive or constructive?
  - Since the COVID-19 restrictions cancelled face-to-face activities at the Graduate Institute, the event took place online. During the event, the authors examined how global monitoring knowledge is mobilized, produced, disseminated and used. Their analyses are intended to bridge the gap between theory and practice, as well as advocacy and policy in education.

Right to education/human rights-based approaches in basic education

NORRAG seeks to contribute to advancing the Right to Education (RTE) agenda and to help shape the terms of debate. NORRAG provides a space for education researchers, practitioners, and other stakeholders to express their views and brings a wide range of perspectives to the table, which have the potential to advance the realisation of the RTE, including right to education policies, best practices and experiences, and teacher policy.

Teacher Policy

In the area of teacher policy, in 2020 we strengthened our relationship as strategic partners of the UNESCO Teacher Task Force Knowledge Platform with Patrick Montjouridès and Ji Liu.

Wajeeha Bajwa, NORRAG Advisor, presented during the 23rd Annual Sustainable Development Conference (SDC) jointly organized by the Malala Fund and the Sustainable Development Policy Institute (SDPI) in Islamabad, Pakistan, on 14 December 2020. Wajeeha participated in a panel titled ‘Education Methods in COVID-19 Response: Assessing Gendered Impact’. She gave a talk on “Exploring the Efficacy of Digital Education and Tele-Education on Girls’ Schooling in Pakistan during the COVID-19 Pandemic” and illustrated how the virus threatens to reverse the progress Pakistan has made in the past two decades regarding girls’ access to education.

In October 2020, NORRAG supported an online workshop, ‘Teachers facing the Digital Divide’, the first of a series of online workshops with the Graduate Institute’s Centre for Trade and Economic Integration (CTEI), in partnership with UNESCO and Microsoft.

In addition, NORRAG attended the RECI Working Group on Teacher Training for Quality Education. One of the main outputs of the working group will be the RECI Thematic Day on Teacher Training for Quality Education, which will take place in November 2020 in Bern/Online.

Private sector engagement in education and innovative financing

As the number and type of private and non-state actors engaging in the education and development sector grow worldwide, NORRAG aims to deepen the collective knowledge of the sector. It seeks to unpack the engagement of private sector actors and practices in education and the mounting numbers and modalities of alternative and innovative financing mechanisms in terms of their impact on the provision of education, as well as quality and equality in education.

Innovative Financing in Education

Given the general decline in global aid to education and the need for an additional USD 1.8 trillion per year (as estimated by the Education Commission) in low-and middle-income countries to achieve SDG4, there is a growing interest in turning to innovative financing mechanisms for the sector. NORRAG’s work in the area of Innovative Financing for Education (IFE) aims to develop capacity and deepen collective knowledge about the mounting numbers and modalities of innovative financing mechanisms in the education sector.

On 23 November 2020, NORRAG organized the launch of NORRAG Special Issue 05: Domestic Financing: Tax and Education with guest editor David Archer of Action Aid. The event took place on Zoom and was attended by 130 academics, professionals, and advocates from all over the world.

In 2020, Arushi Terway gave several talks on the topic of innovative finance in education, including intervention on Innovative Finance: Engaging the private sector in sustainable development financing to address the SDG education challenge? on 16-17 January 2020 in Bangalore India and on 10–11 July in the online International Conference on Equitable Education: All for Education, which focussed on eight main themes to make equitable education possible. Arushi Terway and John Soleanico (Programme Director, UBS Optimus Foundation) also presented on the topic of Development Impact Bonds and other Innovative Financing Mechanism in Education during Professor Gita Steiner-Khamsi’s class “Education and Development: Tools and Techniques for International Cooperation” at the Graduate Institute (IHEID).

The basic education–vocational skills development nexus

With a growing emphasis on the need to equip youth with the means to adapt to the changing relationship between education and the labour market, the basic education–vocational skills development nexus thematic cluster focuses on the relationship between basic education and VSD.

Basic education lays the foundations for VSD and provides youth with transversal skills that support them throughout their lives. Vocational skills are, for many, a means to escape poverty. As such, NORRAG paid particular attention to the interlinkages between basic education and skills development approaches for marginalised populations and the reintegration of second-chance learners into education systems and the labour market.

In February 2020, NORRAG helped organise the outreach activities of the event “Global Interdisciplinary Policy Research Conference on Youth Transitions.” The conference, an initiative of the Graduate Institute’s Centre for Finance and Development, the Global Initiative on Decent Jobs of Youth, and the International Labour Organization, took place at the Graduate Institute on 20–21 February 2020.

NORRAG EDUCATION BACKSTOPPING SUPPORT FOR SDC

NORRAG provides backstopping support to the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC) Education Programmes through a dedicated team. This mandate aims to strengthen the implementation of the SDC’s thematic work on education. The mandate particularly supports SDC’s Education Focal Point (EFP) and team for the implementation of SDC’s education strategy, launched in May 2017. SDC’s education strategy resonates with NORRAG’s own thematic areas and mandate, considering education as a fundamental human right and a core enabler of sustainable development more broadly. The backstopping mandate runs from February 2018 to the end of July 2021.

The mandate specifically refers to assistance in the areas of analytical, methodological, and thematic support for the EFP and communications and content support for SDC’s Education Network, knowledge, and information management, as well as support for SDC in its policy dialogue with the Global Partnership for Education (GPE).

In 2020, Barbara Zeus continued to lead the backstopping team, which also included Gita Steiner-Khamsi as Chief Technical Adviser, Marina Dreux Frotté as Education Officer, and Anouk Pasquier Di Dio as Temporary Coordinator (until February 2020). In April 2020, Lisa Sabot-Schmid joined NORRAG’s SDC Backstopping team as Education Officer.

NORRAG WEB PRESENCE

In 2020, NORRAG’s web presence expanded through the management of the website (www.norrag.org), the resource library and member area (https://resources.norrag.org), and social media channels on Twitter, Facebook and LinkedIn. NORRAG launched a dedicated space for high-quality video on Vimeo in 2019. This platform provides a backbone for video content used by the Innovative Finance in Education project and the KIX EAP Hub video output.

This unified infrastructure allowed NORRAG to continue to provide better functionality and services to its members in 2020. The NORRAG Bulletin (quarterly newsletter) and KIX EAP Hub alerts are now sent to members using MailChimp.

NORRAG’s social media presence continued to grow in 2020, with the Facebook page reaching 1,311 subscribers. NORRAG’s Twitter account is still our most popular channel, with 3,624 followers.

To accommodate NORRAG’s success in securing a growing number of externally funded projects, a new section for NORRAG Projects was developed. It features dedicated menus and content-specific pages. Further development is planned to ensure that project-specific content (news, events and publications) can be displayed on the project pages.

The number of NORRAG’s members continued to grow, with 65 new members between January 2020 and January 2021, representing a 1.33% increase.

The network is kept up to date with tools to ensure that email addresses in the member database are accurate. This change implies a slower increase rate, as emails are regularly deleted while new members are added.
